

DH

DECCAN HERALD

Karnataka forest dept ties up with NGO to plant 10 lakh saplings

02 July 2024

The programme organised by the Forest Department in association with Shri Kshetra Dharmasthala Rural Development Project seeks to plant saplings in areas that have lost greenery. The programme organised by the Forest Department in association with Shri Kshetra Dharmasthala Rural Development Project seeks to plant saplings in areas that have lost greenery.

"Over the last few months, heat waves have killed 100 people and affected over 40,000 in India. Afforestation is the best way to check global warming," he said.

The minister said afforestation should not be limited to environment day celebrations. "It should be part of our everyday life. We have to plant at least one tree in front of our house," he added.

Source: <https://www.deccanherald.com/india/karnataka/karnataka-forest-dept-ties-up-with-ngo-to-plant-10-lakh-saplings-3089445>