Dehradun: A two-day online workshop will be organized to hold discussions on various state and central governments' schemes to boost available resources of the forest department. Commencing on Wednesday, it will be chaired by the head of forest force, Ranjana Kala.

"The meeting will entail discussions ranging from budget allocation to each forest division to discussing the plans of all forest divisions for upcoming winter months," said a senior department officer.

The discussions will also include human-animal conflict, Compensatory Afforestation Fund Management and Planning Authority projects' execution and forest land clearance for various developmental projects.
