

Tree planting marks World Photography Day

In commemoration of World Photography Day, Tamil Nadu Press Photographers Association organised a tree planting drive at Indira Nagar in Adyar. The Commissioner of Greater Chennai Corporation, Gagandeep Singh Bedi, graced the occasion and planted a sapling. Around 60 photographers took part in the event. The saplings were sourced from Communitree, a non-governmental organisation.

Besides, the Association's president, B. Jothi Ramalingam handed over a handful of old photos of Madras from hundred years ago, including those of Ripon Building, Fort St. George, the Harbour, Broadway and Esplanade police station to the GCC Commissioner. PHOTOS: R. RAVINDRAN
